FREE TV COMMENT ON ANNOUNCEMENT OF INTERIM ANTI-SIPHONING LIST

Free TV Australia welcomes the Government's announcement today that it will extend the anti-siphoning list which is due to expire at the end of the month.

"The interim list ensures that all Australians can continue to see major sporting events on television for free," said Free TV CEO, Julie Flynn.

"Free TV shares the Government's determination to ensure that the best games of AFL and NRL rounds remain available to all Australians."

"We also look forward to the early introduction into the Parliament of legislation to allow free-to-air listed sports on multi-channels," Ms. Flynn said.
